

BANKS LANE BLOG

4th May

Today is Star Wars Day! Why May 4th? Well, May the forth be with you!

Yesterday, Zachery in 5B & Kai in 5S celebrated their birthdays. Today, on Star Wars Day, Masie-Ella in 5L & Barnaby in 5B celebrate their birthdays. Happy birthday to you all - may the force be with you!

Need some Star Wars jokes - check out the Joke of the Day below!

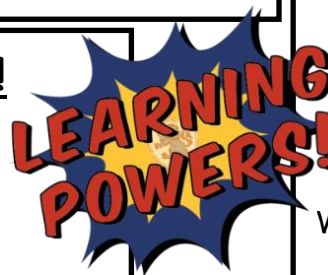

Guess Who?

There aren't many Liverpool supporters in school! Of course, it was Miss Roberts - did you spot the deliberate mistake last week? Mrs Senogles' name was spelt wrong! Sorry Mrs Senogles! So, today's clues...

1. Played in a band on bass guitar
2. Loves running and cycling - ran for Notts AC
3. Was once a presenter on an FM radio station

Who could it be?

More Home Learning!

The Critchlows have been busy! They've been baking, making hot chocolates, growing plants and finding out about their grandad's platform truck (above). Apparently, Lyme Park used to have one - they gave people rides around the park - it doesn't look particularly safe does it?!

Staff Video

Mr Threader has edited the video to include one more missing member of staff... can you guess who it is?

<https://drive.google.com/file/d/1MOU7-7NYrmw15av4R2Y00JDKbrs9j6bb/view>

Joke(s) of the Day

Which program do Jedi use to open PDF files? Adobe Wan Kenobi.

Which website did Chewbacca create to share Empire secrets? Wookieleaks.

Why did Anakin Skywalker cross the road? To get to the Dark Side.

Why is Yoda such a good gardener? He has green fingers.

What kind of car does a Jedi drive? A Toy-Yoda.

Why did the movies come out 4, 5, 6, 1, 2, 3? In charge of scheduling, Yoda was.

Luke: What's for dinner tonight, Dad?

Anakin: Wookiee steak. Luke: Is it any good?

Anakin: It's a little chewy.

