

BANKS LANE BLOG

Day 3!

Have you had a go a Pokémon Go? Well this is better! Chester Zoo has created a virtual animal hunt. Simply download the app and go hunting for animals - as part of your daily exercise of course. Look at the website below for more information - the app is called Wildeverse:

<https://www.chesterzoo.org/play/wildeverse/>

Guess Who?

See if you can guess which member of staff this is from the three clues below. The answer will be in tomorrow's blog.

1. Wears glasses.
2. Has 2 dogs.
3. Loves reading.

5 Minutes of Fame!

Evie can be seen on the auditions of Britain's got talent! See the image below. Have you ever been on TV or in the newspaper? Has anyone you know ever had their '5 minutes of fame'? We'd love to hear your stories!

Also, great baking Evie!

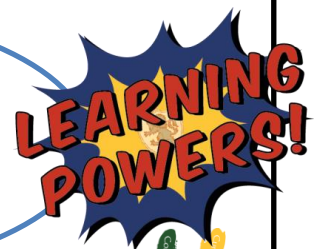

EARTH DAY 2020!

Today is Earth Day! Have a look at <https://www.earthday.org/> today. There are lots of things going on including live streamed lessons about conservation, climate change and ideas about how to inspire people to take action to help our planet - the art ideas look brill!

Check out the event map on the website for live events today.

We love Earth Day! There are so many ways to communicate the message and inspire other people to save our planet. I love the focus on art this year. Check it out!

Joke of the Day

Joke challenge!

Here's my favourite joke of all time:

What is the most common owl in the UK? Some think it's the Barn Owl, some think it's the Snowy Owl, while others think it's the Tawny Owl. It's actually none of those, it's the tea towel!

So here's the challenge:

What is your favourite joke of all time? You could ask your parents and see what their favourites are. Once you've got your favourite, send it to your teacher with the heading, Joke for the Blog. They'll forward it on to me to put in Friday's blog.

